Brooklyn, NY – Some special visitors joined a fun and educational Saturday afternoon of fishing at Prospect Park. Brooklyn Borough President Marty Markowitz, Macy's Vice President and Store Manager Brock Holloway, and Prospect Park Alliance President Emily Lloyd visited the Macy's Fishing Clinic to see how the young anglers were doing.

The new, weekly Macy's Fishing Clinics have replaced the once a summer Macy's Fishing Contest that had been held at Prospect Park for many decades. The free Clinics offers kids quality fishing instruction and an introduction to aquatic ecology.

Children 15 and under, accompanied by parent/guardian, will learn about recreational fishing, fishing safety, and fish-friendly techniques, all while casting their lines on a spectacular summer day in the Park!

Saturdays in July and August, 1 p.m. & 3 p.m.

Meet at the Audubon Center. Call (718) 287-3400, ext. 303 for details.

Location: The Audubon Center at the Boathouse is located just inside the Lincoln Road/Ocean Ave. entrance to the Park. Map.

Please note: All fishing at Prospect Park is "catch and release" only. Once a fish is caught, it must be removed from the hook and returned to the water. The use of barbed hooks is prohibited by New York State Law. For detailed fishing guidelines, please see our web site.

Sponsored by Macy's Foundation
